

Recommended Accessories for BHA Rifles

Big Horn Armory rifles are some of the finest firearms made in the USA, but sometimes even the best products benefit from additional items that make a shooter's life easier. To that end, BHA makes a few accessories that we think are things that anyone that carries a rifle afield will like.

Our Model 89 carries a healthy seven rounds in the magazine tube, but sometimes that is not quite enough. We make a leather Butt Cuff (in left and right hand versions) that keeps an additional five rounds at the ready.

Training can make the most use of proper accessories, like the butt cuff cartridge holder. When the magazine is dry, just open the action completely, stuff a round right on top, close the action and you are back in the game. Another technique that we learned at a Gunsite Craft of the Lever gun class was to fire one, load one. In this method, you fire a round, reload from the magazine by cycling the action, and then take a round from the butt cuff and stuff it into the loading gate, topping off the magazine.

We also make a fine leather Rhodesian Sling for our lever guns and AR500s. There are few shooting situations that cannot benefit from having a proper sling that will help stabilize the rifle. Our Rhodesian sling is one of the quickest methods of achieving this stabilization. It has a large loop mounted to the front sling swivel that allows the shooter to rapidly slip his support arm through so the sling is on his upper arm. This allows the shooter to use his upper arm to generate rearward pressure on the rifle, creating a firmer, more stable hold on the weapon.

The loop is adjustable to allow each shooter to fit the sling to his or her build. The chestnut leather sling for the lever guns uses Uncle Mike-style sling swivels to attach to swivel studs in the Forend Tip and one mounted on the buttstock. The AR Rhodesian Sling is a black leather sling for the AR500 that uses pushbutton quick detach swivels to attach to various points on the rifle. They also act as a carry strap when you need to have your hands free. Our slings and butt cuffs are handcrafted specially for BHA by Andy's Leathers.

BHA makes a base for several popular red dot sights. The base and RDS replace the standard Skinner aperture rear sight on top of the bolt. Red dot sights allow for extremely quick target acquisition with a wide field of view. Some RDS', like the Sig Romeo1 in the photo, can be used as a backup sighting system when the RDS battery gives up the ghost. This, of course, requires regulating your load with practice at the range.

The Scout Scope Mount is made for those who prefer to use a magnifying optic on their BHA lever gun. It is perfect for those with age compromised vision and can accommodate any long eye relief scout scope. When used with quick detach mounts, it can be removed to allow for the use of the standard sights.

Our green ballistic cloth scabbard is an ideal way to protect your lever gun from the elements and from the bashing about that rifles get in the truck or field.

So, whether you are looking for a way to pack extra rounds or an easier way to carry or protect your rifle, we've got you covered with one of our quality crafted accessories.
