

Employee Spotlight: Katie Dallman

This month we would like to introduce you to Katie Dallman. Katie joined the company last October as our Quality Control and Inventory Specialist. She inspects all the incoming parts to make sure they are good to go for production and maintains the inventory, keeping everything organized. She also pulls parts for the Salt Bath Nitrite coating and starts the customer builds by assigning the serial number and building their bins, which travel throughout the shop for the whole process of the build. Katie is the go-to person to find anything in the shop and has been dubbed the “shop mom” by her coworkers.

“I like the small shop feel BHA offers. Everyone works well together and they make a really great team. I am excited to see where BHA can go in the near future,” Katie commented.

Before working at BHA, Katie was in the Navy for six years as a Seabee and deployed to Afghanistan. When she got out, she worked as a Range Officer and eventually got into the rifle manufacturing industry doing similar work as she now performs at BHA. She also worked for a short time as an accountant for her family’s business.

Katie grew up around firearms and hunting, but her love for them did not really take off until her time in the military where she got to use a wide variety, including pistols, M16s, M4s, and shotguns to crew-served weapon systems. Her first pistol was a Glock 23 and her first rifle was a Remington Model 700 .243.

Her favorite BHA firearm is the Model 89 Black Thunder. She thinks it is a good mix of traditional lever action with a touch of tactical aspects to it.

When she is not working at BHA, Katie coaches the local gymnastics team in Cody, WY. She can also be found fishing, hiking, camping, hunting, shooting, paddle boarding, off-roading with her Jeep, and going on adventures with her three girls. Katie truly lives for the outdoors!
