

Employee Spotlight: Cody Downer

In our latest employee spotlight, we have the privilege of spotlighting a true talent in our ranks, Cody Downer. His journey with us has been marked by versatility, precision, and an unwavering commitment to our craft. Cody's role as a Gunsmith at BHA showcases his remarkable skills, with a special knack for bedding stocks to guns.

Before joining our team, Cody lent his artistic touch to another canvas entirely – he worked as a painter for ECF. Little did he know that his transition from painting walls to crafting firearms would be a seamless one, as his eye for detail and dedication to perfection translated effortlessly into his current role.

But Cody's relationship with firearms goes far beyond his career at BHA. He's been shooting guns since he was a kid, and his first firearm was a Savage 22LR.

What makes Cody's role truly special, though, is not just his technical prowess but also his genuine enthusiasm for the people and the process. He finds immense joy in the camaraderie he shares with his colleagues and the satisfaction of crafting top-notch firearms. Cody has been an invaluable part of our team for approximately a year, during which he's consistently showcased his skills and his dedication to our mission.

When asked about his favorite BHA firearm, Cody doesn't hesitate – it's the White Lightning. He describes it as "super dope," and although it might not be a household name just yet, Cody's confidence hints at something extraordinary brewing at BHA. His endorsement speaks volumes about the innovation and quality we're committed to delivering in every product we create.

Outside of the workshop, Cody unwinds with a trio of passions. Whether he's teeing off on the golf course, cheering for his favorite football team, or spending time at the range, he's living life to the fullest.

Cody is a testament to the kind of talent that thrives at Big Horn Armory, where dedication, passion, and skill converge to create firearms that are more than just weapons; they're works of art. As we celebrate Cody's journey, we look forward to witnessing the continued impact of his craftsmanship within our close-knit BHA family.
